Improved ticket filtering functionality for Agents

We are pleased to announce our latest release which includes the addition of our new List Builder.

We have been working hard to continuously improve the power and functionality of filtering tickets in Deskpro. This feature gives Agents the ability to create Lists of queries, simplifying the process of creating ticket lists. An advanced builder is also available in the filter header.

List Builder (SC 72315 & SC 72181)

The list builder lets agents easily create custom ticket lists for their own, or global, use, it operates using simple query filters so that there is no need to use code to create search filters. Agents can then go back to these filters as needed to generate lists of tickets that match the specific criteria.

The list builder uses intuitive 'is/is-not' filter options which enable agents to quickly create highly specific ticket lists based on a number of query fields that will be saved on their lists tab. To access this feature, go to the primary drop-down on the navigation panel in the ticketing interface, from here you will be able to generate new list queries.
