

Help Center > Community > Feature Request > Custom user fields that require unique data entires

Custom user fields that require unique data entires Finished

• JB Jeremy Budd

• Forum name: #Feature Request

Create a custom user field that must have a different value for each user. This field would require unique data, so that no user could have the same value as another user.

| Str />
| In our context, we would use this for Local Machine ID, Virtual Machine ID, user name, and office location. I'm sure other DeskPro admins could find good uses for a field like this. It could be used as a rudimentary form of asset tracking, or even for something as simple as verifying unique identifiers.