Default Notification settings per Agent Permission Group Collecting Feedback

- Joe Davis
- Forum name: #Feature Request

The Deskpro default email and browser notifications give the Agents in our system more information than they actually need/want. An ideal solution would be the ability to create default notification settings for each Agent Permission Group through the Admin interface.