Deskpro

Make CRM notes editable Collecting Feedback

- Thomas Dakan
- Nombre del foro: #Feature Request

It would be nice if there was an option to make CRM notes editable. We get information on clients that changes from time to time, e.g. remote access configuration settings. The new information supersedes the old information, but a lot of times there is overlap and only some of the information is changing.

Alternatively, an agent will forget to enter something in a note and then they will have to copy, paste and edit and then delete the old version of the note. It's a little clunky.