You don't just need to use your helpdesk for support, and increasing number of clients use Deskpro for change, workflow and task management. A common example we see in HR and Recruitment would be a set of tasks to complete when a new employee joins or leaves a company - however you can apply this process in practically any working environment

?What has been changed

As part of our continuing efforts to improve tasks and automations you are now able to configure ticket triggers and escalations which can create a set of tasks for an agent, with relative due dates
