

I'm having trouble receiving notification emails when I create a ticket

Question:

I'm trying to test email notifications. I make myself a test ticket and I don't get an email. Other automatic emails seem to be working. What's wrong?

Answer:

By default, you don't get notifications about your own actions on tickets, including creating them.

Notes with @mentions

How do you want to be notified when an agent mentions you in a ticket note?

Always email and send a message via Agent IM

Save

If you want to enable email notifications for your own actions, go to your Preferences at the top left of the agent interface, and change the My Own Actions settings under Email Notifications.
