Chat queue delete feedback Report

Would it be possible to have the site show some feedback when a chat queue is deleted? Currently when you edit a chat queue and click delete, there's no type of feedback indicating that either the queue was deleted, or not. Would it be possible to get an "are you sure" popup to ensure that accidental deletions of queues are less likely, and also to provide some sort of feedback that a deletion was successful aside from having to go back to the chat queue list to see if it did in fact get deleted?
