Availability for Single Licence Purchase for on-premise Declined

For small business, the option to purchase a single licence for on-premise use would be ideal. I'm sure there are many others who would purchase your software this way. In my case, I have a requirement because of security, that the information is kept on my own server, so purchasing the cloud option is simply not a consideration. Please consider.

I'm sorry but we do not intend to changing our pricing policy for self-install version.
