

I'm having trouble with resolved tickets creating new tickets when users reply

Ben Henley - 2023-09-13 - Comment (1) - Deskpro Legacy

Question:

A user replied to a ticket that had been resolved. I'd expect their message to be added to the ticket thread, but instead a new ticket was created. What's going on?

Answer:

Check that the user did not reply from a different email address that is not associated with their account in Deskpro.

If they were definitely using the same address, the user probably did not have had permission to re-open a resolved ticket.

Under Admin > CRM > User Groups, check your settings for the "Can re-open resolved tickets" permission.

Can use tickets

Can re-open resolved tickets

How should the helpdesk handle an email reply to a resolved ticket?

☒ Reject · The message is rejected and the user is sent an auto-response

☐ New Ticket · The message is accepted as a new ticket

If none of the user's groups grants the permission to re-open resolved tickets, their message may be rejected or accepted as a new ticket.
