- Fix error from agent notifier if there is only 1 agent.
- When viewing a ticket, display the active drafts (updated recently) from other agents in the message list so you can see if someone else is working on a ticket. Drafts that are displayed are updated over time automatically.

- Allow ticket message notes to be deleted by agents.
- Make sure the agent notification popup is hidden when blurring the editor, changing to add a reply, or moving the cursor to a different position.
- Only show the @notify popup if the @ is found at the beginning of a string or following a space or certain punctuation.
- Agents can now alert other agents in ticket notes by entering (in the note text) @, the first couple characters of their name and then selecting them from the list.
- Fix restoring agents from a deleted state in the admin interface.
- If welcome box is disabled, need to add spacing before title
- Fix encoded HTML entities in KB article titles during import
