Why are Agent Notes included in Email threads?

Lara Proud - 2023-08-24 - Komentarjev \(0\) - Agent

The Email Notifications for Tickets that you receive as an Agent will include Agent Notes because they are only seen by Deskpro Agents.

The response a User receives does not include the information that Agent Notification Emails do, and they will not receive a new message when an Agent Note is added to a Ticket.

Example

Here is the difference between what helpdesk Agents will see in the Email Notifications:

Hi Laura,

Of course, the next appointments we have available are on Friday 23rd June at 13:00 or 15:30. Can you let us know if either of these times work for you?

Best regards,

Lara

You can also see which notifications are sent to different individuals by checking the Ticket History tab, helping you feel confident that the Agent Note is not sent to an end-user:

The screenshot shows the 'History' tab selected in the top navigation bar. Below the tab, there are three message cards. The first card is an email from Laura Prod (laraproud3@gmail.com) asking to book a boiler service. The second card is an email response from Lara Proud (laraproud3@gmail.com) offering appointments on Friday 23rd June at 13:00 or 15:30. The third card is an agent note for Hannah Scott (hannah.scott@deskpro.com) to contact the agency and book the appointment when Laura replies. A red arrow points to the 'History' tab.

This tab will show who is notified about each individual message that is added to the ticket, in this case only Hannah is emailed about this Ticket response:
