Hi Jim - there isn't a direct integration for this at the moment but there are some calendars you can integrate through the Zapier app (including Google and Microsoft). Zapier's a third party integration tool which allows you to link Deskpro to a multitude of different apps: <https://zapier.com> You can install it in Deskpro from the apps section. They currently run on a freemium model - simple integrations are free but to access more sophisticated integrations I believe you have to pay a subscription.
